

FOREWORD

Students in Year 9 have reached the point in their school careers when first thoughts about further education, careers and training begin to take shape.

The second stage of this process happens as they reach the age of 16 in Year 11 when an overwhelming number choose to continue their education post-16. The days when young people of whatever aspirations walked out of school and looked for a job without further training are gone.

Between now and Year 11 most students' ideas about what subjects they like, what they are good at and what they might consider doing in the future will change. For this reason it is important for students to keep as broad a range of subjects as possible. The next two years in a young person's education are not the last lap but the entry into the next phase.

Students who enter Year 10 next year are able to exercise a fairly open choice over the subjects they take. They will be encouraged to follow an individual learning pathway; this is good news for many, though not without its dangers. I believe that it is in the interests of the vast majority of our young people to take a combination of courses to 16 which will preserve breadth and balance. Accordingly, we shall be guiding the choices that students make to ensure that they have a balanced curriculum.

There is a common core which all must take consisting of English, Mathematics, Science, Personal and Social Education, Religious Education, Physical Education and Welsh. In addition students will be able to make four choices, though it should be noted that if a subject attracts very few choices it may be uneconomical to provide it.

Our Key Stage 4 curriculum provides a good range of choice. A number of new subjects is on offer and students need to find out as much as they can about these courses before making their choices. The developments in 14-19 education in Wrexham have also enabled us to extend our option menu to include subjects available at other educational venues within the Wrexham area.

From September 2010 we will be offering the Welsh Baccaulaureate qualification to all Year 10 learners. This is an exciting qualification which adds a valuable new dimension to the courses already available to 14-19 year old students. The academic qualifications which young people gain are only a part of their education at Ysgol Rhiwabon. We take pride in the ways in which they are prepared for adult life; they are trained to develop skills of listening and responding with reasoned argument, to research their own material, to make decisions based on fact and informed judgement and to use ICT. Social skills, community activities and work experience are an essential part of their education during the next two years. The Welsh Baccaulaureate qualification recognises the importance of personal development skills and combines these with existing qualifications such as GCSEs to make one wider award that is valued by employers and universities.

I hope that parents and children will take time together to discuss the choices, and that you choose wisely and well. The staff at school are more than happy to help with any queries you or your child may have.

WHAT NOW?

Read this booklet carefully so that you are aware of all the facts.

Talk to your parents and teachers about the subjects on offer in the booklet.

In the near future you will be making your choices on the Careers Wales website.

Once you have made your choices, you will have the opportunity to discuss them with one of our team of advisers which includes Mrs P Gooding, Mr J Hotchkiss, Mrs C Ballamy and Mrs S Cooper.

THE CURRICULUM

YEAR 10

Core Curriculum: compulsory for all students.

English

Mathematics

Science

Physical Education

Personal and Social Education

Religious Education (short course)

Welsh (Full or short course)

Optional Courses: Students choose subjects from the four option columns.

LEVEL 2 COURSES – Courses offered at GCSE A* - C grade or equivalent

LEVEL 1 COURSES – Courses offered at GCSE D – G grade or equivalent

ENTRY LEVEL COURSES – Courses offered below GCSE level

GCSE ENGLISH LANGUAGE
(Entry level/level 1/level 2)

The course seeks to develop in students:-

- (a) the ability to communicate accurately, appropriately and effectively in speech and writing;
- (b) the ability to understand and respond imaginatively to what they hear, read and experience in a variety of media;
- (c) the capacity to enjoy and appreciate the reading of literature.

The syllabus will provide for a range of experiences of:-

- (a) oral communication
- (b) reading
- (c) writing.

This will involve sustained writing and sustained reading of various kinds, including the reading of whole works of literature.

ASSESSMENT

- (a) The assessment of written English will consist of:-
 - (i) Two examination papers (40%)
 - (ii) Coursework (30%)
- (b) The assessment of Spoken Language will be made during the course by the class teacher. This is worth 30% of the total allocation.

Good attendance is essential in order to complete all the components of the course.

Entry Level English will be offered to pupils who may find the demands of GCSE too great.

GCSE ENGLISH LITERATURE (level 1 and level 2)

Students will also follow a literature course which will lead to a separate GCSE qualification.

Pupils will study in depth a range of literary texts in Prose, Drama and Poetry (pre- and post-1914). A coursework assignment based on Poetry and Drama will be submitted for assessment.

Pupils will study a prescribed text in Prose, Drama and Poetry for the terminal examinations.

In doing so they will:-

- (i) develop their ability to read, understand, enjoy and respond to a variety of literary texts;
- (ii) develop their awareness of personal, social and cultural significances in the study of literature;
- (iii) develop their ability to construct and convey meaning in written and spoken language.

ASSESSMENT

The assessment will be based on two examination papers and on coursework submission.

Examination 75% Coursework 25%.

GCSE MATHEMATICS (Entry level/level 1/level 2)

All pupils will study Mathematics and will be taught in sets arranged according to ability. They will continue to work through the National Curriculum in Mathematics.

Most pupils will be entered for the WJEC GCSE Mathematics examination. This is a new course which will be introduced by the WJEC in September 2010. Entry Level Certificate in Mathematics will be offered as an alternative to those pupils for whom GCSE is inappropriate.

The GCSE syllabus has two overlapping tiers of entry.

Higher Tier (level 2)	A*	A	B	C	D
Foundation Tier (level 1)				C	D	E	F	G

Assessment for both tiers will be through three written papers, sat during Years 10 and 11. The three units are

Unit 1 – Mathematics in Everyday Life

Unit 2 – Non-Calculator Mathematics

Unit 3 – Calculator-Allowed Mathematics

All pupils will require their own scientific calculators and basic mathematical instruments for use in lessons, examinations and for homework. Advice on suitable equipment and calculators is available from any Mathematics teacher.

MRS J ROBERTS

GCSE SCIENCE (level 1 and level 2)

Pupils will be sitting GCSE Single Award at the end of Year 10 at either Higher or Foundation Tier. They can attain a GCSE Award at the end of Year 10. They will study topics covering the three sciences – Biology, Chemistry and Physics. There will be practical exercises throughout Year 10 and the marks from these exercises contribute to the final GCSE grade.

In Year 11 pupils will sit a second GCSE in Science.

There is the opportunity for some pupils in Year 10 to study the three separate sciences at GCSE level. This means that they will be able to obtain a GCSE in Chemistry, Physics and Biology. A lot of extra work is involved in the study of this course, but it provides an excellent basis for the study of Science at Advanced level.

one subject from each column.
Remember - choose a balanced curriculum.
Courses are available at various levels.
The levels are indicated in brackets after each subject name.

GCSE ART AND DESIGN (level 1 and level 2)

The GCSE course is structured to build on existing, familiar working methods and to develop practical, perceptual and critical skills in Art, Craft and Design. The emphasis of the syllabus is personal research which requires a high level of self motivation. Although mainly practical, there is a theoretical aspect as students will develop an understanding of the language and conventions of past and contemporary Art. Students will investigate, analyse, experiment and document ideas in an imaginative and creative manner, informed and influenced by the work of artists, craftspersons and designers. There will be opportunities for students to use a wide range of media and processes, such as drawing, painting, 3D, textiles, IT, printmaking and new media. All students will be required to develop their ideas in a sketchbook. There may be opportunities for students to visit local galleries and exhibitions and participate in practical workshops.

Assessment

- 1 Candidate Portfolio 60%
Practical and contextual Artwork selected and presented by students from work undertaken within the course. The deadline for completion of this is the end of the Autumn term in Year 11 (December) after four terms of work.
- 2 Externally-Set Task (10 hours focused study) 40%
This is presented to students in the Spring Term (January) of Year 11. Research and preparation time is followed by a sustained period of focused study of 10 hours (April).

Both assessment areas need to show equal evidence of the four Assessment objectives.

- 1 Contextual Understanding
- 2 Creative Making
- 3 Reflective Recording
- 4 Personal Presentation

Students will present an exhibition of their work which is internally assessed and then externally moderated.

OCR NATIONAL IN INFORMATION COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGY (level 2)

The OCR Nationals suite of qualifications provides students with high quality, industry-relevant qualifications geared to the specific requirements of key sectors. They are vocationally-related qualifications that provide valuable opportunities for individuals to develop skills and gain underpinning knowledge and understanding which will support entry into work or progression to further studies through Further Education or Higher Education.

The OCR Nationals are attractive, practically-based qualifications intended to stimulate and interest students. They support achievement of Key Skills and relate to national occupational standards thereby providing an ideal progression to National Vocational Qualifications (NVQs) once individuals are in suitable employment.

OCR Nationals are structured in such a way that they allow progression from a one GCSE-equivalent course (the OCR Level 2 National First Award in ICT), through to a four GCSE-equivalent course (the OCR Level 2 National Certificate in ICT), depending on the number of modules covered in the year.

It is envisaged that students choosing this option will follow a two GCSE- equivalent course (the OCR Level 2 National Award in ICT).

The course is 100% coursework meaning that there is no final exam at the end of a two-year period of study. Instead, the students compile a portfolio of work throughout the two years and are assessed on this at regular intervals. OCR offer 23 Units giving an extensive "a la carte menu" to choose from to build up the relevant number of modules for required qualification.

These modules include units in:

- Unit1 ICT - Skills for Business (a mandatory unit)

Optional Units

- Unit 2 Webpage creation
- Unit 3 Digital imaging – plan and produce computer graphics
- Unit 4 Design and produce multimedia products
- Unit 5 Desktop publishing
- Unit 6 Spreadsheets – design and use
- Unit 7 Databases – design and use
- Unit 8 Technological innovation and e-commerce
- Unit 9 Customer support
- Unit 10 Planning and supporting telecommunications
- Unit 11 Career planning for IT
- Unit 12 Work experience in IT
- Unit 13 IT systems and user needs
- Unit 14 Installation of applications
- Unit 15 System testing and maintenance

GCSE MUSIC (level 1 and level 2)

GCSE Music is a practical course which allows students to develop further their performing, composing and listening skills. Through a range of activities students acquire the knowledge, skills and understanding to:

- 1 make music, both individually and in groups
- 2 develop a lifelong interest in music
- 3 progress to further study at A/AS level.

The course also gives students opportunities to develop broader lifeskills and attributes including critical and creative thinking, aesthetic sensitivity and emotional and cultural development.

The course is based on four areas of study:

Music for stage and screen
Musical forms and devices

Music in Wales
Music Evolution

Assessment:

Students are assessed and examined in three parts.

- 1 Composing – 30%. Internal assessment. Students compose a folio of music in a style of their own choice.
- 2 Performing – 30%. Internal assessment. Students perform individually and as part of a group (own choice of piece.)
- 3 Listening examination – 40%. Externally marked. Students will sit one listening exam at the end of the course.

Previous Experience:

The course is a continuation of work and experiences already encountered during KS3 Music lessons.

Additional instrumental lessons are not needed to pass the examination, however students will be required to develop their keyboard skills to the required level for performance and composition work.

Candidates are advised that performing before the class is an essential element of the course.

The Edexcel BTEC First Certificate in Sport is a 180 guided learning hour qualification which offers a bite-sized opportunity for learners to experience a vocational qualification. The course offers a vocational qualification for learners who wish to follow a shorter programme of study related to an aspect of employment that they might wish to move into or a taster qualification which can extend their programme of study and provide an initial experience of a vocational area.

Key Features of the BTEC First in Sport

The course has been designed to focus on:-

- Education and training for those working in the sport sector.
- Providing opportunities for learners to gain a nationally-recognised vocationally-specific qualification to enter employment in the sport sector or to progress to further qualifications such as BTEC Nationals.
- Providing opportunities for learners to develop a range of skills and techniques, personal qualities and attitudes essential for successful performance in working life.

Structure of the Qualification

The BTEC First Certificate in Sport consists of three units which must include at least one of the specified core units. The units are:-

The Body in Sport (core unit)
